THE INDEX.

The Figures refer to the ſeveral Numbers of the ENGLISHMEN.

A.

ACknowledgment of an Error, the Candor in ſo doing, the greateſt Act of the Soul: exemplify'd by an Inſtance of Queen Elizabeth in the buſineſs of Monopolies. 41

Addreſſes, fill'd with Rants of abſolute unconditional Obedience, animadverted upon. 57

Adoration, the mere Act thereof is not the reaſonable Sacrifice. 11

Advice, the moſt proper Method of giving it. 19

Allom-workers, curſed by the Pope regularly once a year. 53

Ambition deſcrib'd. 48, 49. A Diſcourſe on it by Sir Francis Walſingham. 54

Arthur,

The INDEX.

Arthur, Prince, the Poem ſo call'd, commended. 52

Aſgill's Anſwer to the Hereditary-Right Book, taken notice of. 56

Aſtronomy, a Syſtem thereof, demonſtrated by a Machine invented by John Rowley. 11

Averſion of one Nation to another, is their natural Security. 52

B.

BANK, the Run upon it, occaſion'd by Paſſages in the Examiner and Poſt-Boy. 57

Baptiſm, a Diſcourſe on it and Circumciſion. 39

Bull of Pope Pius V. againſt Queen Elizabeth and the Hereticks her Adherents. 45

C.

CAmbridge, Duke of, his Patent, the Preamble thereof. 56

Carthaginian Captives, Characters of them as they march'd by Scipio. 2

Caſe ſtated (a Book ſo call'd) animadverted upon. 37

Chaiſe, the Conveniences thereof deſcrib'd. 21

Charity, a Diſcourſe thereon. 38

Charicles (or Lord Chancellor Harcourt) thrown out of the Senate unjuſtly. 10, 13

Charles I. King, Reflections upon his Murder; as likewiſe a Quotation out of Lord Clarendon, being a Character of that King. 51

Church-men, which of them are only the Weather-cocks and Clappers of the Steeple, and which its its real Support and Pillars. 57

Church and State, how united. 57
Circumciſion, a Diſcourſe on it and Baptiſm. 39
Clergy-men of England have in all Ages hitherto ſtood up for the Civil Rights and Properties of the People. 57
Commerce, ſee Trade.
Converts, New, their Character. 57
Coronation-Oath of the Engliſh Kings. 3
Cork, Biſhop of, his Book about drinking to the Dead, animadverted on. 50
Courtiers, an old Trick with them, when any thing is offenſive to them, to ſay it is diſreſpectful to the Crown. 57
Courtier, when he's a Man of Honour, the greateſt Character in human Life. 57
Credulity, the great Infirmity of the Engliſh Nation. 24
Criticks, a Diſcourſe on them and Criticiſm. 7
Curſe, ſee Excommunication.

D.

Declaration of the French King againſt new Catholicks. 38
Delicacy of Taſte. 7
Demagogue, the difference between him and a true Politician. 24
Dreſſing above our Condition, an Evil. 4. Dreſs of Engliſh Women to be ſo contriv'd, as to turn the Ballance againſt France. 4. Mr. Ironſide's Diſcourſe upon the Dreſs of Women. 17
Dublin County, the Grand Jury's Preſentment concerning great numbers of young luſty Fellows, all Iriſh Papiſts, liſted and ſent into France to ſerve the Pretender. 57. Lord Lieutenant's Proclamation upon the ſame occaſion. ibid.

Dunkirk, how begun to be demoliſhed. 57
Duſt-man Virtuoſo, an Officer appointed to take away Male and Female Trumpery. 4

E.

ELizabeth, Queen, her retracting a falſe Step ſhe had made in the Buſineſs of Trade. 41
England, the ineſtimable Land of Liberty and Property, 3, 16. England, as it were, the Demeſn of Mankind. 16
Engliſhman, a true Engliſhman, the greateſt Character in Life; his Duty and Privileges. 18, 46
Engliſhmen no Fools, inſtanc'd from a Story taken out of Philip de Comines. 35
Examiner and his Friends the beſt Subjects King or Queen ever had, if Loyalty conſiſted in empty Words alone. 57
Examiner, the whole ſtrain of his Polity the Reverſe to that of wiſe and moderate Miniſters. 57
Excommunication of an Allom-worker. 53

F.

FAN, an Account of a Poem thereon. 29
Fame, a certain Author's Reflections on that Subject. 48
Fortitude, a Diſcourſe thereon by Sir Francis Walſingham. 54

France, a dangerous Neighbour. 52. Merrily deſcrib'd by a Traveller. 40
French Proteſtants, an Account of their Reception at Geneva lately. 31

G.

GOverning All by All, the Art thereof. 25. The antient Inhabitants of the Northern Parts of Europe Maſters of that great Secret. 28
Government, the Nature thereof, among the antient Goths, Vandals, &c. 28
Government of a Nation compar'd to that of a Family. 32
Great Britain the only Country that enjoys the antient, generous, and manly Government of Europe. 28
Groſyppus, ſee Mincio.

H.

HAnnover Family, if any way diſoblig'd, her Majeſty has given no Cauſe for it. 57
Henry IV. of France, his Speech to his Parliament. 41
Honeſty, a Diſcourſe thereon by Sir Francis Walſingham. 54

I.

JEſters kept formerly by Great Perſons, for the better regulating their Conduct. 19
Impudence, a Diſcourſe thereon. 10

Injuſtice, a Paragraph out of Tully upon that Subject. 10
John, King, his Gift of the Kingdoms of England and Ireland to the Pope. 23
Iriſh Houſe of Commons vindicated. 46
Ironſide, Neſtor, his Character. 16

K.

KING of England can do no wrong, nor is ever in Minority; thoſe two Maxims deſcanted upon. 32

L.

LEtter from Richard Steele to Neſtor Ironſide, Eſq; deſiring him to print his Letter to a certain Great Lord, containing his Complaints againſt that Lord's Man the Examiner. 1. From Sir Walter Raleigh, concerning the Power of the Engliſh Sovereign. 2. From John Smith Corn-cutter, who is known to be a Houſe-keeper, which the Examiner is not. 3. From the ſame, repreſenting the Hardſhip of his Caſe, who owns his Name, and yet is abus'd by the Examiner, who dares not own his. 4. From Theophilus Deacon at Oxford, concerning the Tenures of Engliſh Clergymen, their Influence upon the People, and the Doctrine of Non-Reſiſtance and Paſſive-Obedience. 6. From Philanglus, relating to a Porter, who was hir'd to perſonate and vote for a Man that was dead. 8. From Anglo-Britannus, concerning the Duty of every Engliſhman (eſpecially Electors lectors of Parliament Men) to ſtudy Politicks and Trade. 8. From Charles Fary, concerning French Wines. ibid. From J. M. to his ſick Wife at the Bath, giving an Account of the Death of their only Son. 9. From one Gentleman to another after a little Party-Diſpute. 12. From Richard Steele to the Engliſhman, in Defence of the late Earl of Godolphin, againſt the Examiner, a Writer full of Tautology, and for Principle rather a Bandito, than a Soldier in the Cauſe. 13. From Sam. Homely about the Lyon at Button's. 15. From James Baker about the Examiner's metamorphoſing Cæſar into a Baker. 15. From a Shop-keeper in the New-Exchange, alluding to the Examiner's committing Villanies under Covert. 16. From --- about a Clock of a new Invention by Richard Street. 19. From Hannovero-Britannus, quoting ſome Paſſages out of the Hereditary-Right-Book, and confuting ſome of his Hiſtorical and Scriptural Obſervations. 20. From Edward Eaſy in Commendation of the Vehicle called a Chaiſe. 21. From ---- vindicating the Body of the Clergy. ibid. From Rachel Bohea, complaining of the lewd and nauſeous Importunities of her young Cuſtomers. 24. From Mr. Whiſton and Mr. Ditton, repreſenting their Caſe about the Longitude. 29. From Lucinda Brunetta the Coffee-woman, complaining of the Impertinencies of a Lawyer, a Phyſician, and a Student. 30. From ---- relating to Dunkirk. 31. From ---- relating to Common-Councilmen for the City of London. 32. From ---- giving an Account of his indolent Way of living, and how burthen- ſome it was to him. 33. From ---- concerning Circumciſion and Baptiſm. 39. From Ralph Engliſh, Son of a naturalized French Proteſtant, giving an Account of his Journey to Paris. 40. From the ſame, giving the Subſtance of a high-flying Sermon he heard at Paris. 42. From ---- concerning the Examiner's pretending to be ſupported by the Miniſtry. ibid. From Ralph Engliſh, concerning the Examiner's aukward witleſs Account of Anne the Second's Acceſſion to the Crown. 43. From a Gentleman who had been a Servant to the Prince of Denmark, occaſioned by the Report of the Queen's Death. 43. From a Clergyman's Wife concerning the Popiſh Queen Mary's Commiſſion for depriving and removing Canons and Prebends who are marry'd. 44. From Mr. Steele in Vindication of the Iriſh Commons againſt the Examiner. 46. From Anglo-Britannus upon the ſame Subject. 47. From James Fondling, concerning the 10000 l. Prize fallen to the Lot of a Sailor. ibid. From a Clergyman's Son under the Apprehenſion of being baſtardiz'd by the coming in of Popery. 47. From Adam Clayduſt, who is juſt come out of the Country, but cannot go abroad till he knows what's meant by Whig and Tory. ibid. From Obedience Paſſive, a Whore ſo called, concerning her late Converſion to the Roman Catholick Faith, and giving an Account of a Sailor's preſenting her with 4 or 5 Quire of Pardons and Indulgences, &c. 49. From ----, taking notice of the ragged Boys that clean Shooes in the Streets. ibid. From Eraſmus Dublinienſis, anſwering ſome Aſſertions contained in the Biſhop of Cork's Book

Book about drinking to the Memory of the Dead. 50. From Civis Londinenſis, giving an Account of the burning the Pretender in Effigy. 55. From Conſtant Churchman, relating to young Clergymen and Time-ſervers now making their Court by Strains of unlimited Loyalty and Obedience without Reſerve. 55, 56. From Hanover Tory, giving an Account what good Effects the Book called the Criſis has had on him, &c. 55. From Conſtant Churchman, reflecting on the Doctrine of Paſſive Obedience, as taken in a dogmatical, poſitive, abſolute Senſe. 46. From Richard Steele, in Anſwer to a Friend of his at Court, who had given him ſome Admonitions and Reproaches upon the Subject of what he had lately publiſhed. 57

Liberty, ſee England.

Libels and Pamphlets, Diſcourſe upon them. 15

Longitude invented lately. 29

Love, conjugal, the greateſt Happineſs in Life. 9

M.

MAry, Queen, her Commiſſion for depriving and removing Canons and Prebendaries who are married. 44

Marlborough, Duke, vindicated againſt the Examiner. 36

Merchants, ſee Traders.

Miniſters, Evil, the Cauſe of the Quarrels between Engliſh Kings and their Subjects. 32

Miniſters, wiſe and moderate, the very Reverſe of the Examiner's Polity. 57

Micio's way of giving Advice, very different from that of Groſyppus. 19

Montaigne's Account of his Daughters meeting with a ſmutty Paſſage in a Book. 19

N.

NEW Converts, their Characters. 57

O.

ORder of King and Council (Anno. 1637.) to puniſh the King's Fool, for ſpeaking ſcandalous Words of a Peer. 49

Orrery, a Mathematical Machine ſo called, invented by John Rowley. 11

Oxford, the Engliſhman's Trip thither lately; his Account of ſome Particulars relating to its preſent Condition; as likewiſe of its making honourable mention, in the Publick Exerciſes, of the Author of Cato, and the Cenſor of Great-Britain. 34

P.

PAin, a Diſcourſe thereon, tending to mitigate it. 22

Papiſts, their preſent flouriſhing Condition in England, 37. 55. Their Treatment of Proteſtants exemplify'd, and what we muſt expect from them if ever they get the Power into their Hands. 14

Pardons for Sin, by the Pope, of no effect to the Poſſeſſor, unleſs duly paid for. 49

Paris, the City, merrily deſcribed. 40

Paſſive Obedience, a ſingular Doctrine, confuted. 56
Politicians, eaſier to be ſo than Criticks. 7. A true Politician vaſtly different from a Demagogue. 24
Prerogative of the Engliſh Sovereign ſet in a true light. 2, 3, 18. 41, 46.
Pretender: Queries about his Birth and Birthright obviated. 5. An Account of his being burnt in Effigy. 55
Preachers and Preaching; a ſhort Diſcourſe thereon, in a Letter from Conſtant Churchman. 55. 56.
Prieſts, of all Religions, and in all times, have had an irreſiſtible Influence over Mankind. 14.
Prieſts of the Popiſh Religion have equall'd the utmoſt Barbarities of Heathens. 14
Property, ſee England.
Prince George's great Capacity for Mathematical Inquiries. 11

Q.

Queries, ſee Pretender.
Quacks and their Bills, a Diſcourſe thereon. 24

R.

Revolution-Principles vindicated. 57
Rich, to be envy'd in nothing ſo much as the Advantage they have in chuſing their Companions. 21
Rome, a brief Account of its Riſe, Progreſs, and Ruin by Julius Cæſar. 25
Rowley, John, ſee Orrery.

Scotſ-

S.

SCotſmen, coldly treated by the Engliſh, a great Fault. 3
Selkirk, Alexander, an Account of his living alone above four Years in a deſolate Iſland. 26
Sermon preach'd by a young Clergyman at Paris, proving that Princes, who are the Shepherds of the People, have a Right to eat their Sheep. 42
Smith, Alexander, Captain, his Hiſtory of Highwaymen, Footpads, &c. 48
Somerſet, Duke, his Calmneſs in paſſing to his Execution. 47
Speech of a Pentioner of a Town in Holland, concerning Peace, Trade, Publick Faith, &c. 27.
Steele, Mr. at Button's, after a Fit of the Gout. 36. His Vindication of the Iriſh Commons. 46
Starch, Blue, forbidden by Queen Elizabeth. 17
Stratocracy, of the Examiner, turn'd upon his own Heroe at the Head of two Files. 36
Suckling of Children by any but the Mother, condemn'd. 30
Sumptuary Laws, not ſo prevalent as Satyr and Raillery. 4

T

TAſte or Palate happily compar'd to Judgment in Poetry. 7
Trade-bill with France declaim'd againſt. 3
Traders the only fit Repreſentatives in Parliament for for the City of London 3. The laudableneſs of being a Trader or Merchant. 3. 4.

U

UNion ſee Scotſmen.
Univerſity Feuds carry'd on with greater Rage, than thoſe of other places. 34

W

WAlſingham, Sir Francis, his diſcourſe upon Honeſty, Ambition, and Fortitude 54
Whigs, not juſtly Chargeable with the late Rumours during the Queen's Illneſs. 57
Women, how treated in different Countries. 9

Y

YOung, Mr. his Poem on the laſt Day taken notice of. 11

FINIS.